Wildhorse Resort & Casino Wraps Up 4th Annual Celebrity Golf Tourney

Pendleton, OR - The Wildhorse Celebrity Golf Tournament was bigger than ever according to Wildhorse golf pro Laine Wortman. The event, held Aug. 11-13, brought in more celebrities and more players than at previous tournaments in the four-year series. Among the 26 celebrities were baseball stars Ken Griffey, Sr., and Vida Blue, as well as Truck Robinson and Maurice Lucas of the NBA.

The celebrities were “friendly and appreciative of the fans and outgoing with participants and guests who approached them,” said Wortman.

Although the public meet ‘n greet of past years was not held this year, Wortman noted that the celebrities were available for two days to greet fans and sign autographs before and after they played their tournament rounds.

The discontinuation of the meet ‘n greet allowed more time for celebrities to interact with the tournament participants and with Wildhorse customers, noted Wortman.

Although the celebrities lend an air of festivity to the event, it is a real golf tournament, with winners receiving prize money and merchandise. Teams played with a different celebrity each day. First place, low gross with a score of 116 for the two days best-ball play went to a team of Dan Troxel, Bob Swettman, Eric Sundstrum and Paul Miller, who were teamed with former Blazer Bob Gross and Joe Baumgarder. Low net honors, with a score of 99.9, went to JJ Ford, Butch Thurman, Carl Peterson and Marv Anderson, teamed with NFL great of the Miami Dolphins Marv Fleming and Truck Robinson of Phoenix Suns fame.
